East L.A. students tour museum and woodshop

The high school woodworking class is only one of many that have visited.

A large group of high school students from East L.A. visited the Sam and Alfreda Maloof Foundation's historic museum home and grounds and additionally were treated to a rare tour of the Maloof working woodshop. (Regularly scheduled Maloof Foundation tours feature the historic residence and gardens and do not include the woodshop.)

Sam's woodworking assistants, Larry White, Mike Johnson and David Wade, all helped out, each leading the students through different stages of the furniture-making process.

The group consisted of students from Garfield High School.
